COMPLEMENTARY GEOGRAPHICAL STRATEGY RELATING TO VERTICAL INTEGRATION UNDERPIN FUTURE PROSPECTS dividends for the period used to calculate earnings per share does not include the amount of any preference dividends for cumulative preference shares paid or declared during the current period, in respect of previous periods.

2.9 Capital items

Capital items are defined as items of income and expenditure relating to the acquisition, disposal or impairment of investments, businesses, property, plant and equipment and intangible assets, closure of businesses, as well as the impairment of goodwill.

3. RECONCILIATION BETWEEN IFRS, PREVIOUS SOUTH AFRICAN GENERALLY ACCEPTED ACCOUNTING PRACTICE AND OTHER RESTATEMENTS

3.1 SIC 12 – Transaction recognition criteria

In circumstances where equity in a subsidiary or associate company is disposed and serves as security for the funding of the proceeds receivable, the accounting recognition of the disposal of such shares in the group financial statements is deferred until the funding subject to the security of the equity sold has been fully repaid. In previous years, such transactions were recognised upon entering into the respective sale agreements. The comparative results and financial position have been restated accordingly.

3.2 SAICA circular 9/2006 – Transactions giving rise to adjustments to Revenue/Purchases

Previously, the group had accounted for certain rebates received and settlement discounts granted as income and expense in the income statement. In terms of Circular 9/2006 issued by the South African Institute of Chartered Accountants, these rebates received and settlement discounts granted need to be set off against turnover and cost of sales and, where applicable, estimated at the date the related asset is recognised and capitalised to cost of the asset. As a result, the revenue and cost of sales in the comparative financial statements have been restated to reflect the net turnover or cost of sale and, where applicable, the income recognised has been reversed against the cost of the asset and the depreciation charged for the prior year decreased.

The following reconciliations provide a quantification of the effect, after taxation, of the transition to IFRS:

4. Financial statements

This set of summarised consolidated financial statements are presented in compliance with IAS 34 – Interim Financial Reporting. The consolidated financial statements for the year have been audited by Deloitte & Touche and their accompanying unmodified audit report as well as their unmodified audit report on this set of summarised financial information is available for inspection at the company's registered office. Full details of the group's business combinations for the year, additions and disposals of property, plant and equipment as well as commitments and contingencies are included in the group's consolidated financial statements.

COMMENTARY

REVIEW OF RESULTS

The group's strategic positioning of its operations globally has yet again delivered the desired result. The business model of geographically spread operations and accompanying strategies of supply chain participation through vertical integration is the platform from which sustainable growth is being delivered. The group's manufacturing and sourcing operations benefited from its investment in an expanded retail base. Despite challenging market conditions outside South Africa, the extension of the group's retail distribution base is poised to deliver sustainable benefits in the future.

Trading conditions in Continental Europe remain competitive, notwithstanding moderate signs of recovery. The consolidation trend in these markets continues and the group is well-positioned to exploit these through market coverage in terms of variety of product and price points, as well as sourcing networks. The investments in developing and acquiring brands have benefited both the group and its strategic retail partners via exclusivity agreements. The Polish and Hungarian operations performed well. The Benelux region, through its accelerated rollout of the Henders & Hazel concept, has shown a satisfying improvement in profitability towards the latter part of the financial year. It is anticipated that this concept will enable the Benelux operations to continue to grow under this new business model, which should contribute to improved performance in the years ahead.

In addition to growth in existing markets, the group continues to pursue and secure new markets. In the year under review the group secured new sustainable supply agreements in Scandinavia, France and the Far East as a result of its geographic reach and position as a preferred supplier to leading retailers in those markets.

In the United Kingdom ("UK"), the group should continue to benefit from its investment in Homestyle. Despite difficult trading conditions but following decisive restructuring actions, Homestyle is now well positioned to grow. Its operating profitability already improved in the last six months of the financial year. The commercial relationship with Steinhoff, as a significant supplier to Homestyle, has exceeded initial expectations and benefited the group through incremental business gained from this retail distribution base. Steinhoff's UK manufacturing businesses delivered a strong performance and are well positioned for significant growth.

Consumer confidence and spending patterns in the Pacific Rim region were subdued, with the furniture retail market in Australia and New Zealand remaining static during the year under review. Focused re-branding initiatives, the development and store rollouts of the new brand, BayLeatherRepublic, and store format conversions, are showing signs of improved performance. The International Sourcing division in China continued to perform well, and is rapidly becoming a key contributor to the continued success of the divisions it serves within the group.

South Africa's household goods sector continued to experience strong demand and Steinhoff Africa's Furniture division performed particularly well due to its positioning to take advantage of increased consumer spending and a wider consumer base. The increases in fuel prices and the continued high consumer spending and its accompanying inflationary impact has resulted in interest rate hikes. This may cause a slowdown in the buoyant market conditions which prevailed in respect of household goods. In order to address these effects, actions have been implemented in all of the southern African operations to remain competitive, whilst maintaining profitable growth. PG Bison, once again delivered record results. All Steinhoff's Timber interests have now been rebranded under the successful PG Bison brand. This resulted in an expanded integrated value chain, stretching from the plantations to value-added products supplied directly to the end consumer. The Raw Material division experienced tough trading conditions as a result of import competition. The Textile division was repositioned during the year to improve future contribution.

The consistently sound operating performance delivered by Unitrans vindicates the group's investment therein.

The average exchange rate used for converting euro income and expenditure to ZAR was R7,8196 : 1 euro compared to R7,9091 : 1 euro in respect of the previous financial year.

Performance

The group's revenues increased by 70% from R18 958 million to R32 238 million. A substantial portion of this increase was attributable to the first-time consolidation of the full-year results of Unitrans (2005: 6 months) and Homestyle, that became subsidiaries with effect from January 2005 and July 2005, respectively.

The group generated 46% (2005: 52%) of its revenues in currencies other than South African rand, principally euro, pound sterling and Australian dollar. The impact of the inclusion of Homestyle as a subsidiary on the proportionate contribution of foreign currency-denominated revenue, was reduced by the full-year inclusion of Unitrans. However, if Unitrans' motor retail business is excluded, the foreign currency-denominated revenue of the group comprises 67% (2005: 67%). The actual foreign revenue achieved in currencies other than South African rand, denominated in euro, increased by 61% from euro 1 138 million to euro 1 830 million.

Headline earnings attributable to ordinary shareholders increased by 26% from R1 557 million in the year ended 30 June 2005 to R1 959 million.

Headline earnings per ordinary share increased by 25% to 173 cents (2005: 138 cents) with basic earnings per ordinary share improving 21% to 166 cents (2005: 137 cents). The weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue was 1 133,3 million (2005: 1 128,1 million).

Ordinary shareholders' funds at 30 June 2006 amounted to R10 873 million (30 June 2005: R8 187 million). The return on average ordinary shareholders' funds was stable at 21%. The net asset value per ordinary share grew to 953 cents from 724 cents per share as at 30 June 2005. This increase is stated after accounting for the equity portion of R221 million of the convertible bond referred to under Corporate Activity.

The group's cash flow from operations was R3 305 million (2005: R1 449 million). Cash generation is calculated after taking account of the net increase in working capital of R45 million (2005: R991 million). Net cash flow from operating activities (as adjusted for dividends and capital distributions paid) is 237 cents per share (2005: 95 cents per share) and exceeded headline earnings per share at 173 cents, confirming the group's quality of earnings. Positive cash generation was achieved through good working capital management, containing inventory and debtor levels, notwithstanding the substantial increase in activity levels.

The group's operating margin decreased, as expected, to 11,3% (2005: 12,5%) excluding, for comparative purposes, the lower margins of the motor retail business of Unitrans. The decreased margin is attributable to the inclusion of Homestyle and the retail operations in the Pacific Rim, which, collectively, as a result of continued tough trading conditions in the UK and Australasia, made a lower proportionate contribution to group operating profits. The continued improvement and growth in the retail trading results is anticipated to impact favourably on margins. The group continues to benefit from improved efficiencies throughout the supply chain and the group's favourable terms of supply of finished products for resale. Margins should also improve once the current process of integrating and rationalising activities in the Pacific Rim, notably in respect of the logistics function, have been completed.

Net finance expense for the year rose to R291 million (2005: R193 million) in line with the expanded group operations and the funding costs incurred on the acquisition of Homestyle, and the bank facilities assumed with the acquisition of Steinhoff Asia Pacific in January 2006.

At 30 June 2006, Steinhoff had net interest-bearing debt of R3 566 million (30 June 2005: R1 894 million) resulting in a debt: equity ratio of 30% (30 June 2005: 21%), well within the group's targeted debt : equity range. The group's permanent capital base was strengthened by the net proceeds of R378 million from the issue of perpetual preference shares.

The group's taxation charge increased to R428 million (2005: R213 million). The resultant higher average tax rate was attributable mainly to Unitrans' higher tax rate and Homestyle's tax losses. Given the prospects of Homestyle and likely further favourable tax incentives in respect of exports from Eastern Europe, management remains satisfied with a favourable sustainable average tax rate of 15% anticipated for the 2007 financial year.

The wholesale, distribution and retail segment of the business now comprises 71% (2005: 51%) of Steinhoff's group revenues and it is anticipated that this segment will be further expanded to facilitate increased participation through additional added value segments of the supply chain.

Corporate activity

In addition to the corporate transactions detailed in Steinhoff's interim results announcement (8 March 2006), and those concluded by Unitrans and reported on in its own results announcement (23 August 2006), the group concluded the following corporate transactions during the year under review:

– with effect from January 2006 Steinhoff, through one of its European subsidiaries, acquired the remaining issued ordinary share capital held by the management in the retail operations conducted through Steinhoff Asia Pacific (Pty) Limited (formerly Bravoscar Nominees (Pty) Limited) in Australia and New Zealand. The purchase consideration was settled by the assumption of debt in Steinhoff Asia Pacific and the issue of Steinhoff shares, which are subject to certain "lock-in" arrangements with the management concerned;

– on 30 June 2006 Steinhoff issued a seven-year rand-denominated convertible bond ("the Bond") to raise R1,5 billion (before expenses). The Bond bears interest six-monthly at a fixed rate of 5,7% p.a. and is convertible into 54,74 million Steinhoff ordinary shares at an issue price of 2 740 cents per share (representing a conversion premium of 32,5% to the prevailing underlying share price at the date of pricing). The Bond was issued exclusively to international investors and is listed on the Singapore Stock Exchange. The net proceeds from the Bond are earmarked for investment in the North-Eastern Cape Forestry project ("NECF") which is currently being developed by PG Bison at an estimated cost of R1,5 billion;

– during the year Steinhoff continued to participate in the funding of the expansions in the European Community of Poco International, its strategic retail partner in that region; and – Steinhoff Investment Holdings Limited issued a further tranche of variable rate, cumulative, non-redeemable, non-participating preference shares.

Outlook

The restructuring of Homestyle continues. It will provide a sound base from which its turnaround in the latter half of the year under review is expected to continue to deliver substantial growth in operating profits. As a result, the balance of the group's operations in the UK, Eastern Europe and Pacific Rim also stand to further benefit from their trading relationships with Homestyle.

In the German region, the group continues to grow through its existing brand and product strategy, and relationships with major retailers, mail order companies and buying groups. The new Esprit product range has been successful with 120 studios already opened, and further rollout planned. The group continues to investigate opportunities for brand expansion, through own brand development and acquisitions. The German economy is showing moderate signs of recovery and increased consumer confidence. The level of order books in respect of the group's main product categories and new ranges is growing. The successful Henders & Hazel store-in-store concept of our Benelux operations is being extended to other European destinations.

Steinhoff International Sourcing in China will increasingly contribute to the success of the divisions it serves, in particular the UK region, Australasia, the German region and South Africa. The sourcing base is being expanded to increase the group's supplier base. Initiatives are well advanced to improve the logistics and distribution function to provide a more efficient service to the group. In respect of Australia, project "Renew" (the repositioning of the existing Freedom brand) and new store openings under the BayLeatherRepublic brand, all bode well for improved performance in the current financial year and thereafter.

The South African retail sector is expected to become more competitive as a result of the macro-economic factors impacting on consumer confidence and disposable income. The combination of the timber interests and their rebranding under PG Bison is expected to deliver sustained growth in the years to come. PG Bison's NECF particleboard project is well under way and is expected to be commissioned in January 2008, which will add capacity of 1 000 m³ of particle board per day. This will further strengthen and improve PG Bison's competitive position in respect of import replacement and the anticipated continued high level of demand in the structural industry.

The acquisition by Unitrans of Concorde Logistics and TechXpress provides a base for Unitrans' international expansion, and these acquisitions will assist in exploiting synergies within the larger Steinhoff group. It is anticipated that Unitrans will deliver a satisfactory performance in the current financial year.

Management expects to achieve growth in headline earnings from continuing operations for the current financial year.

Distribution from share premium account

Notice is hereby given that, in accordance with the authority granted to the directors of the company in terms of Article 56A of the company's articles of association and the resolution passed at the annual general meeting of the company held on 25 November 2005, a cash distribution from share premium (in lieu of a dividend) of 37,5 cents per share (2005: 30 cents per share) has been declared and is payable to shareholders recorded in the books of the company at the close of business on Friday, 10 November 2006 ("the capital distribution"). The salient dates of this distribution are:

	2006
Last date to trade cum capital distribution	Friday, 3 November
Shares trade ex capital distribution	Monday, 6 November
Record date	Friday, 10 November
Payment date	Monday, 13 November

On Monday, 13 November 2006, the capital distribution will be electronically transferred to the bank accounts of certificated shareholders who utilise this facility. In all other instances of certificated holders, cheques dated 13 November 2006 will be posted on or about that date. Shareholders who have dematerialised their shares will have their accounts credited on 13 November 2006.

In terms of the Companies Act, the directors confirm that, after the payment of the capital distribution, the company will be able to pay its debts as they become due in the ordinary course of business and its consolidated assets, fairly valued, will exceed its consolidated liabilities.

Annual report

The annual report will be mailed to shareholders in due course. The annual general meeting is scheduled to take place on Monday, 4 December 2006, at the registered office of the company, at 08:00.
